Please provide an example of one way you 'help' your human accomplish a task better than they could do it by themselves.
Lounging in the sink when it's time to brush teeth. Getting in the fridge, freezer, dryer, shower, and falling in toilets,

What is the funniest thing that has ever happened to you?

Stealing everything I can get ahold of

Please share your adoption story

I was brought into the shelter as a 4 week old flea infested, skinny kitten with a mouth injury cause I didn't have brakes and used my chin to stop. My HS was only going to foster me till I was bigger. As soon as I met her still damp from my first bath wrapped in a fluffy blanket I reach up and placed paws on her face and looked up with my adorable PIB EYES and chewed on her chin. As much as the HS tried to deny it I was hers from the first second. I chose her. I get away with everything I can and when I forget to "Make Good Choices" or I'm "hard of listening" I just use my PIB eyes and all is forgiven. I like to ride in the car on the elevated seat. I don't like riding in the kennel and will cry great buckets of woe until I can ride in my special seat.
