Please provide an example of one way you 'help' your human accomplish a task better than they could do it by themselves.
I wear my most disapproving expression to ensure that she feels properly judged and, hopefully, a little guilty. I'm not sure that this improves my human's ability to accomplish her own tasks but, for me, it usually accomplishes snacks. I also ensure that she thinks carefully about what she intends to say before she types it by greatly increasing the interval between thought and action. This is achieved by sitting on her laptop.

What is the funniest thing that has ever happened to you?

Funny things do not happen to me. On no occasion have I ever been the object of mirth, amusement, ribaldry, jest joke or anecdote. Although, I must admit I smiled a little when I yakked up a hairball beside the human's bed and she trod in it. In fact, that makes me smile every time.

Please share your adoption story

My previous human died and I was sent to stay in a kitty camp - it was no fun for a dignified, older lady like myself, but I'm a tough old bird and I refused to lose heart. My human was a kitty camp volunteer and she came to visit me every week. I allowed her to be my friend, but that was as far as it went for 10 long months. Then, one day, she just took me home. The previous cat-god had recently crossed the bridge (although he was still hanging around for a while) so there was suddenly room for me. I will confess that it was a happy day and I sang to the Moon that night to give thanks. Now, I am by far the most important being in that house and a queen about these parts. My story is written here: <https://kittenkamkattery.wordpress.com>, but you have to scroll down a bit to find "The Adventures of the Little Grey Cat" (that's me !)

What is your favourite thing to play with?

My catnip banana - or it would be if that pesky feral didn't keep slipping in through the open door and stealing it. I'd like to shoot him into space! In the absence of my banana, my human's sandals are pretty fun, especially when her feet are still in them!

What kind of food do you like to eat?

What do you mean, what kind?

Do you like going for car rides?

Aaaaargh! The wheeled box of doom!

What is your favourite cartoon character?

Cartoons - hmmm.... are there any cartoons of catnip-banana-stealing feral toms getting their just deserts at the paws of a homely yet regal grey cat? No? Well there's a gap in the market identified.

If you drove a car, what make, model and colour would it be and why?

Aaaaargh! The wheeled box of doom! Although, I could be persuaded to take the wheel of a Citroen DS mark II, in black (as I don't think they made it in grey). Classic yet radical Much like myself.

Do you have a theme song? What is it?

It would be "The Arrival of the Queen of Sheba" by George Frideric Handel (you see, before I lived here my name was Sheba and I am a queen about these parts). I'm also into death metal and One Direction, but for goodness' sake don't tell my human.

How many siblings do you have and what are they (i.e., other awesome kitties, dumb dogs, ugly snakes, etc.) What is your relationship like with them? If they are also applying to the Bitty Space Program, please include their name.

I am solitary, as befits my status as Queen and Supreme Ruler of these parts.

What is the name of your human sponsor or sponsors?

It's "Oi! Where's my breakfast?" Only kidding: It's Jill Pickford

What type of position are you applying for? What special skills do you think we could use for our program?

Something in quality control I think. Something which involves scrutinising the work of others and, preferably, criticising it. I have the best judgmental expression and it should be utilised to the max. Sitting down job preferred. Or laying down - don't mind. And no fleas, please. I'm allergic.

What else do we need to know about you?

The fact that I am a queen about these parts is probably all you need to know. Have I mentioned that?
